Digital signage solutions
StrandVision has introduced animated radar weather maps for its digital signage systems as part of its online information package. The service is available at no charge for U.S. subscribers, and supplements locally-sourced digital signage, which includes advertising, photos, graphics, hours of operation, and employee news. The company's standard digital signage package includes local and national news, weather, and currency rates. Other optional feeds are available. Price: Free. Availability: currently available. For more information, contact StrandVision at 715-833-9501 or at www.strandvision.com.
